Calling all former Masport employees

ICONIC Kiwi company Masport is searching for former employees to join in the celebrations for the company's centenary birthday this year.

Masport is marking 100 successful years of service with a Centenary Staff Reunion and a special book to commemorate the company's long history.

The Centenary Staff Reunion will be held November 28th in Auckland, just days before Masport's official 100th birthday on December 1st.

The first draft of the commemorative book, due to be completed in time for this auspicious event, is nearing completion and Masport are seeking any contributions of memorabilia to help convey the Masport story.

With a long and eventful history to be proud of, Masport has evolved from manufacturing World War two grenades to creating New Zealand's first fridge and lawnmower.

Masport was initially founded by Kiwi engineer and entrepreneur Reuben Porter. One of the first products he patented was a valve mechanism for milking machines, revolutionising the industry. Porter created Masport alongside fellow engineers Harold Mason and Edwin Jones and quickly established a reputation for quality engineering work – a foundation which is still adhered to today. ●
