Iconic Kiwi company Masport has launched a nationwide search for former employees to join in the celebrations for the company's centenary birthday this year. Masport is marking 100 successful years of service with a Centenary Staff Reunion and a special book to commemorate the company's long history. The first draft of the commemorative book is nearing completion and Masport is seeking any contributions of memorabilia to help convey the Masport story. The Centenary Staff Reunion will be held 28 November in Auckland, just days before Masport's official 100th birthday on 1 December.
